

SERVER1.Network Community Guidelines for StepChallenge.Net

SERVER1 is dedicated to providing a fun and safe way to step together on the internet, therefore it's important to be mindful of your fellow human. To that end, we've set up a few guidelines that we ask you follow and that we will follow to ensure fairness. Thanks for helping us make SERVER1 a positive experience for everyone!

Keep Nicknames Friendly: The purpose of Nicknames is to add a bit of fun to our online lives, so keep your nickname friendly and not ugly, sexist or unacceptable as others may perceive it.

Respect Privacy: It's important to respect and honor the privacy and consent of the individuals using Server1. Make sure you're authorized to use any content from the appropriate people before you post, share or make available to anyone, or any entity in any format. You do not have the rights to share, sell or make available to anyone or any entity, for any reason someone else's content.

Credit the Community: People work hard to make their steps or other services we provide, and we want to make sure they get their proper dues. Help us support the community by using SERVER1's share tools to make sure that the original creator is getting credit for the work.

Sharing: Sharing is great but you must get permission from the other Server1 user before proceeding to use their images, nickname or results in any format or in any way.

Badges: Step badges are awarded when you reach an achievement of over 5000 steps per day. Badges start at 5k and then 10k,20k – 100k steps per day. If you would like a badge to show off your achievement, email ouoffice@server1.network and we will attach a badge to your account. If you achieve more than 30000 steps in a day, Server1 requires a screenshot of your device showing the date of the achievement with a thumbs up in the shot OR a screen shot of the weekly steps with that date and a thumbs up in the image as verification of such a high achievement. Screen shots can be of your mobile device or desktop. In some instances where high stakes challenges are running, you may be asked by other challengers to provide proof of such an achievement. This can be understandable when large steps per day are achieved. In the event of a conflict where competitors need proof of the steps, you will be asked to provide two screen shots of the week from your mobile device or desktop with the date of the week showing you achieved the steps and not someone else. If the event you are unwilling to provide the images, SERVER1 will revoke the badge in fairness to all challengers. Your permission to post the screenshots will be required and SERVER1 will provide a URL link for all challengers to view these images. The images will show your nickname and steps. No other identifiable information will be shown unless you provide such proof. Submitting such proof gives SERVER1 permission to post the images. SERVER1 is not responsible for those images being copied and distributed elsewhere in the world, however they may be used.

Entering Steps in a Timely manner: You must enter steps within 30 days of the current date or forever have them as entered as zero. Regional step counts are calculated weekly going back 30 days to allow everyone to get their steps in. If your steps are not entered, they cannot be entered later and are lost. For fairness to all users, SERVER1 will not allow steps to be entered that at over 30 days old to prevent users from going back into the past and entering steps to change their position in regional challenges. This provides fairness to all users. If you are in a challenge, SERVER1 notifies all users by email daily to enter their steps. When a challenge ends, you have 24 hours grace period to enter steps or receive zero steps for the missed days. This provides results in a timely manner so another challenge can be started or joined with.

Entering High Step Counts: We love to give credit where credit is due. When you try to enter steps over 29999, you will be prompted to provide us a screenshot with the watch and a thumbs up for proof of your achievement. This provides fairness to all users and allows us to show badges alongside your profile picture. If you enter a high step count in a challenge, please take a picture of your watch with a thumbs up in the image and email it to ouroffice@server1.network along with your account ID, (B_ seen on your cell or desktop), or we will figure it out from your email address. SERVER1 will get the steps entered ASAP and make sure you are credited for your achievement.

Pornography & Explicit Nudity: You can't upload anything that depicts any form of sex act or other sexually explicit material. Straight up: Your GIFs or images can't show any explicit nudity at all. Sorry! In general, if it's not something that you'd show your mom, don't upload or create it on SERVER1.
